Education through community conversations. Access by creating opportunities where they do not exist.

Empowerment, because what you do know, can help you grow.

Connecting Washington, D.C. region residents to community resources

THE WHY

The metropolitan Washington, D.C. region is a prosperous and diverse area. The region continually works toward becoming healthier and stronger, boasting excellent health outcomes.

Beneath the impressive statistics are pockets of communities facing disadvantages that threaten their health and well-being. Lack of access to information and inadequate resources prevent them from experiencing the benefits of prosperity and opportunity the region has to offer.

Their needs are acknowledged, but rarely met. The Mosaic Forum has answered the call to action, connecting people to information, ensuring equal access to services, and helping to develop a deep sense of community.

MISSION

To bridge the gap between vulnerable Washington, D.C. region residents and crucial health and community resources through education, creating avenues of access, and empowering individuals to advocate for themselves and others.

KNOWLEDGE

We provide a safe place where people tell their stories and express their need for help. By meeting them where they are, we can encourage use of appropriate and timely services.

ACCESS

We work with traditional networks, as well as create unique partnerships. Together with our alliances, we influence systems, producing opportunities and avenues of access for those we serve.

EMPOWERMENT

We bring people and information together, helping them define their needs to service providers. We encourage individuals to believe that their voice and views are necessary to the conversation. Time to take your seat at the table!
